Programme specific admission

In addition, applicants must also meet the following programme specific requirements:

- A self-declaration, providing information regarding:

- criminal convictions.

Applicants are required to indicate whether they have been convicted of, or have been prosecuted for, a criminal offence. Under the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 some types of criminal conviction may result in the Midwifery Council refusing to register a person as a midwife.

- mental and physical conditions.

Applicants are required to indicate if they have had any mental and/or physical conditions, to demonstrate that they are fit for practice as a midwife. Under the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 some types of physical or mental conditions may result in the Midwifery Council being unable to register a person as a midwife. A medical report may also be requested, where evidence of good health is required, as per Midwifery Council requirements.

- Personal statement, which demonstrates communication skills and self-responsibility in relation to their learning and practice, as required by Midwifery Council.

- an indication of whether they hold a driver's license, and if not whether they have access to reliable transport.

This programme has travel requirements associated with clinical placement; it is therefore recommended that applicants have a driver's license to support them with meeting the programme clinical placement requirements.

- At least two written references.

The reference is required to demonstrate the applicant has good character and that the applicant is sufficient for safe and effective practice as a midwife, as required by the Children's Act 2014.

Referees will ideally be provided by an academic in a leadership or tutorial position/teacher/lecturer, and an employment/professional/volunteer-based referee. Referees may not be a family member, partner or flatmate.

- Registered health practitioners from other disciplines who seek Recognition of Prior Knowledge and Skills (RPKS) on the basis of their health professional qualification and practice experience must hold registration with the relevant regulatory authority in New Zealand and provide a Certificate of Good Standing from that authority.
- Provide evidence of achieved First Aid Certificate covering relevant NZQA standards or skills standards (e.g. 6401 and 6402).

Once ākongā are accepted onto the programme they are required to:

- Complete a safety check.

The safety check will be required to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Children's Act 2014. This may include, but is not limited to:

- Reference checks,
- Police check,
- A risk assessment.

Unsatisfactory results arising from the full safety checking process may result in the ākongā being declined entry or withdrawn from the programme of study.

During the programme (after commencement of study):

- Ākongā are required to:
 - Declare any pending or new convictions arising during any stage throughout the entire enrolment period of the programme. A conviction or failure to declare a conviction may result in the ākongā being immediately withdrawn from the programme.
- Ākongā will be required to:
 - Provide evidence of immunisation status to secure clinical practice experiences, which may be required by clinical placement providers.

Language requirements

As per Midwifery Council, applicants for whom English is a second language must complete an assessment of their English language and pass at the required standard. This is not applicable for applicants where any of the Aotearoa official languages are their first language. This can be achieved through completion of either:
