Centre for Health and Social Practice

At the heart of the Wintec | Te Pūkenga Centre for Health and Social Practice is a team of experienced and respected practitioners, researchers, and educators, delivering postgraduate programmes designed in response to the learning needs of regional and national health and social service professionals. The centre takes a collaborative approach to learning that leads the way, creating a positive interface between education and the nursing and social service practice sectors. These programmes allow registered nurses and health professionals to extend their clinical knowledge and skills in a specific area of practice.

A photograph of two young women sitting in a well-lit, modern university interior. The woman on the left is seated on a purple armchair, wearing a blue textured sweater and dark jeans. The woman on the right is seated in a wheelchair, wearing a white textured sweater and dark pants. Both women are smiling and looking towards the right. The background is slightly blurred, showing other people and university architecture.
